

Heart Attack FAQ

Take the First Step to Learn About Your Cholesterol at No Cost to You

You can help protect your heart from another heart attack. Lowering bad cholesterol is one of the most important things you can do. Before you can manage your bad cholesterol, you have to know your numbers by completing a lipid panel test.

Here's how:

- 1. Print the form and ask your doctor to complete the (blue) sections on the next page.
- 2. Schedule an appointment at a Quest Diagnostics Patient Services Center by visiting appointment.questdiagnostics.com or by calling 866-697-8378. When enrolling online, be sure to select the “All Other Tests” option if “Lipid Panel Test” is not listed. Walk-ins are welcome, but appointments take priority.
- 3. Take the completed form to your Quest Diagnostics appointment to redeem it for your lipid panel test. This unique lab order will not be billed to you or your insurer.
- 4. Discuss your results with your doctor when they are ready. The Rebound workbook contains questions you can ask your doctor to better understand your numbers and how cholesterol can be managed to lower the risk of another heart attack.
- 5. Record your results in the risk factor tracker on page 23 of your Rebound workbook to help you track and manage your bad cholesterol numbers over time.
